INFORMATION FOR BUILDING CONSENT APPLICANTS ON THE NATIONAL ENVIRONMENTAL STANDARDS (NES) FOR ASSESSING AND MANAGING CONTAMINANTS IN SOIL TO PROTECT HUMAN HEALTH

What is the NES? The objective of the NES is to ensure that land affected by contaminants in the soil is identified at the time of the development, and if necessary, is made safe for humans.

How does the NES require soil to be safe? If an activity on the land meets certain 'triggers' in the NES, a resource consent will be required. The resource consent will make sure that any contaminants are identified and made suitable for humans to live and work on the site. Please note that a resource consent is different to a building consent. Please contact the Council Planner on 07 315-3030 if you want to know what a resource consent is.

Why is Council required to administer the NES? The NES falls under the Resource Management Act 1991, and came into force on 1 January 2012. The NES is required to be implemented by all District, City and Regional Councils, including Ōpōtiki District Council.

What does this mean for my building consent application? From January 2012, people applying for building consents will need to provide Council with more information than they have in the past. This will ensure that Council planners can decide whether any of the criteria under the NES applies to your proposal.

Why should I provide the additional information? If you do not answer the questions on the cover page, it may result in delays in processing of your building consent.

If you have any questions regarding the NES, please consult the Ministry for the Environment's website <http://www.mfe.govt.nz/laws/standards/contaminants-in-soil/>. If you are unsure when answering the questions overleaf please contact the Council Planner on 07 315-3030.

AEP FLOOD LEVEL INFORMATION NOTE

When applying for building consent, you need to include a letter from Bay of Plenty Regional Council confirming the AEP flood level of the application site.

A letter can be obtained free of charge by either phoning BOPRC on 0800 884 881 or emailing your name, the address of the property you are seeking an AEP for, and your phone number to info@boprc.govt.nz. BOPRC will take up to 5 working days to provide you with the letter.
